LEGIONNAIRE STRESSES SCHOOL HEALTH PROGRAM

Dr. James Spencer Hough, state chairman of the American Legion Committee for Coffee County, spoke at the monthly meeting of county school teachers held in Enterprise on Thursday, Oct. 16. Dr. Hough reported that especially favorable reports of the correction of physical defects and of medical care received by infants, preschool and school children in Coffee County had been brought to the attention of the State Department of Health.

The speaker stressed the importance of making the school health program one for preventing future effects and of correcting those found not merely one of making a record of the defects recognized. The child in need must be brought to the services of the family doctor or dentist. Only thus can our future citizens be kept fit to meet their responsibilities in a democracy.

He complimented Coffee County teachers for their assistance in making the work of the local Health Department more effective for improving child health.

Where lack of money was the main barrier to the effort directed at protecting our future citizens, Dr. Hough reported excellent experience with the use of a revolving loan fund from which parents could borrow to help pay for corrections needed to protect the health of their children.

DEATH OF NATHAN STINSON

On October 12th, about 8:30 p. m., the domus angel crept calmly and quietly in to the room of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Stinson and claimed the spirit of the husband and father. Loved ones standing by rendered all help possible, but were so helpless, but could not hear the welcome call: "Nath, you've finished your work, come up higher."

Nath was in declining health for several months but was confined to his bed for the last few weeks, having contracted pneumonia, and then a complication set in.

Nathan W. Stinson was born March 12, 1878 (being 63 years months of age), in Coffee County and made his home here all of his life.

On December 17, 1903, he was married to Miss Emma Devane. They made their home on the old plantation and lived the quiet life of his days there. To this union were born five children, the oldest being the only boy, the youngest, the girl, Misses Mae, Annie and Alice, and Mrs. Ann Clower, all of Jack, Rye, and the wife, Mrs. Emma Stinson; one sister, Mrs. J. P. Stinson, and a host of other relatives and friends survive to mourn his passing.

Mr. Stinson united with the M. P. Church at Chestnut Grove July 16, 1926, and was a faithful and untiring member until his death.

Revs. Lindsey and Lynch conducted the funeral services. Active pallbearers were Messrs. Roy, Quay and Alva Devane, Alcega Sparlin, Osborn Lobell and Calvin Stinson. Honorary pallbearers were 22 close friends.

The Chestnut Grove male quartet, composed of Andrew Johnson, Henry Dismukes, Louis Helms and Clanton Clower, sang, with Mrs. Clanton Clower as pianist.

Weep not, dear wife and children, for our loss must be Heaven's gain. The floral offerings were an evidence of a Christian friendly life. We are glad at your picture, sweet memories we recall, of a face so full of sunshine for one and all.

Enterprise Resident Has Interesting Experiences On Visit To Brazil

(By Nell Francis Hutchins)

ENTERPRISE, Ala., Mrs. H. M. Sessions of Enterprise, self-appointed good neighbor, has lately returned from a four-months visit to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. She reports it a land of the friendly misadventure, where women sometimes go into the street without their hats, but never without their gloves, and a coquette man is never seen in a public conveyance.

Embarking on the S. S. Del Argentine (since converted into a warship), Mrs. Sessions sailed from New Orleans for Rio to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Keeler, Mr. Keeler being an attaché of the diplomatic service.

Following the Gulf Stream, the journey led through calm seas, toward the West Indies where children in Coffee County had been brought to the attention of the State Department of Health.

The speaker stressed the importance of making the school health program one for preventing future effects and of correcting those found not merely one of making a record of the defects recognized.

PUT A GOOD WINTER COVER ON YOUR LAND

Cover crops, especially the more desirable legumes, are heavy feeders on potash. Be sure that they get enough to enable them to make a vigorous growth to hold the soil in place during the winter. Cover-crop fertilizers usually should contain about equal amounts of phosphate and potash.

Potash also speeds up early spring growth and helps to provide a large amount of green matter high in nitrogen and minerals to turn under for the main crop to be planted in the spring. See your county agent and fertilizer dealer about the economy of using potash to insure good winter cover crops.

For better results, the reality of it, admit its existence, and seek God's way of full deliverance. Sin, which came into the world when man listened to Satan and disobeyed God in the Garden of Eden, has been the cause of all our troubles and the cause of our death.

For the first time in several years complaints are being registered by cotton mills about short cotton, reports J. C. Lowery, extension agronomist, who says that one of the largest mills of the state reports receiving considerable 13-16th cotton for the first time in several years.

"Now is the time when everyone interested in the production, marketing and manufacturing of cotton should combine their efforts toward preventing the breeders seed of adopted varieties and farmers should do everything possible to keep varieties pure."

There is no love of darkness in God. He is light. When Jesus came into the world, he brought the Light of the World. But men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved (John 3:17-23).

The public buildings of the cities which rim the sea coast are now in the hands of the enemy. The city of Rome, particularly along the Amazon valley, is much the same as the cities of the world. The white settlers came. Much marble is used in building as it is plentiful and of excellent quality. The sidewalks are made of black and white stone, laid by hand. All premises, public or private, are beautifully and sparsely kept. Piles and mosquitoes are so scarce in the nation's capital that screens are not necessary.

"The houses, old and new, are very beautiful, secluded behind high walls and protecting ledges. Some are so nearly American in design and furnishing, the visitors are so beautiful and sparsely kept. Piles and mosquitoes are so scarce in the nation's capital that screens are not necessary."

There is no hope for a man as long as he assumes such an attitude, for he not only lies himself, but he makes God a liar. He denies the truth of God's Word about sin, makes untruthful statements and declares that they do not belong to God and do not accept His Word. It is evident that they ought never to be permitted to teach such things in the church, or in the name of Christianity.

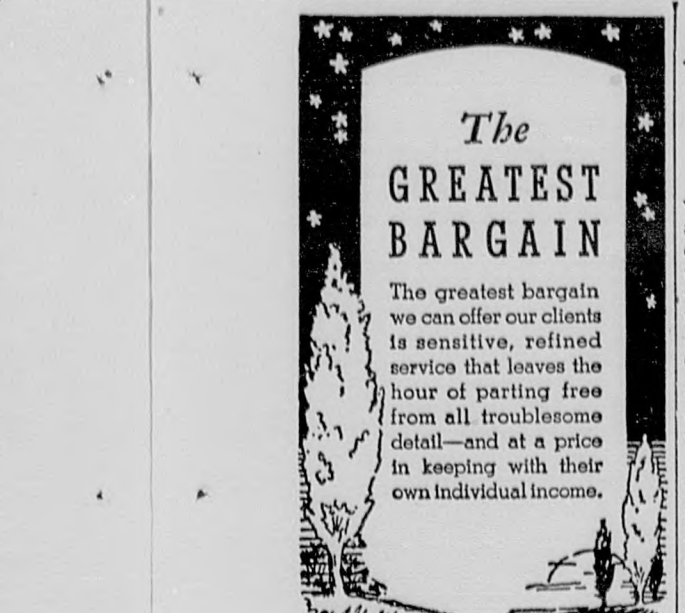

IV. Sin Calls for a Savior (I John 2:1-6). Christ the propitiation, the merciful covering for our sins, is the only savior. He paid the price, and made it possible for God to be just and at the same time a justifier of the ungodly. The sinner needs such a Savior.

Sin in the life of the believer also calls for a Savior, one who will cleanse us (I John 1:9) and who will in His own blessed name plead our case (I John 2:1) pleading His righteousness in our behalf when we do fall. This does not mean that we are to become indifferent or careless about sin. If we say we know Him and do not keep His commandments, we lie about our professed relationship to Him. The mark of a true child is a spirit of obedience.

God's children prove their love to Him by keeping His commandments. Talking about our devotion to Him, giving our service to Him, or sacrificing for His cause mean nothing if we do not obey Him. We only give evidence upon evidence of our untruthfulness by making claims and doing things which are negated by our disobedience.

PEANUT BUTTER HELPS CORRECT B DEFICIENCY

Within one year's time peanuts have become an important part of the diet of the people in Alabama and the United States, says Lavada Curtis, extension specialist in food preservation. Although she points out that this has come about by recent survey which showed millions of Americans are deficient in vitamin B.

French doors transformed the former back hall into an attractive dining room. The new doors were celled, new windows and doors cut where needed, broken sash and glass replaced. The porch and flower beds have attained a fine stage of growth and beauty.

The plentiful supply of "grown at home" food makes another view from the kitchen unique. In this thriving family of four, Mrs. Carmichael displayed 400 pounds of produce, including winter-tomatoes, peas, butter beans, string beans, English peas, squash, and more.

Fisheries in the United States employ about 225,000 persons and the value of the yearly output in foodstuffs is in excess of $125,500,000.

Inspiring Success Story Of Coffee Farm Family

Four years ago when a doctor was summoned to treat the small son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Carmichael of Camp Ground community, the steps and front porch were "so near rotted down" that entry had to be made from the back of the house through the kitchen.

The progress and improvement made since that time is another of those success stories about farm folk in Coffee County.

During the 10 years before moving to the tumble-down house the Carmichaels had accomplished a great deal. A large closet for storing preserved foods has been torn away and a new one built with brick half-columns and a tiled roof.

Many needed repairs have since been made. The front porch has been torn away and a new one built with brick half-columns and a tiled roof.

Individual farmers are not required to have priority ratings of any kind under the defense program in order to purchase ordinary farm machinery, equipment, spare parts, fertilizers, insecticides, the cut surface will have a chance to cure during the current season.

There may be things farmers cannot be able to get, such as aluminum, and other materials, but in cases like this the manufacturer and not the individual farmer is the one affected by the priority rating.

Farmers who are asked to secure "priority ratings" before making purchases of ordinary equipment or supplies should advise the Department of Agriculture immediately of the name and address of the dealer and the product on which a priority rating was requested.

MEDIUM HOG BEST

The best hog for killing is one moderately large, weighing from 200 to 250 pounds, and weighing from 200 to 250 pounds, and weighing from 200 to 250 pounds.

If the hog is too fat when it is killed, it will be difficult to cure. The meat also carries a large proportion of fat which makes it undesirable as a food.

The Carmichael recipe for curing begins, they say, with careful planning, put on paper and followed. Some improvement for the home and farm is included in this blue print each year.

Aside from the field crops, Mr. Carmichael has sold $300 worth of timber from the place. He has averaged $200 a year from the sale of hogs and calves.

Mrs. Carmichael averages $75 a year from the sale of butter. In 1928 she brought 50 White Leghorn chicks and raised 47 of them, using a pasture box for a brooder.

She now has a fine flock and sold $18 worth of eggs during the past three months. She also makes a meat sum from the sale of surplus fruits and vegetables.

Many articles that brighten and beautify the home have been made at small cost—curtains and tufted bedspreads from feed sacks, a calendar set from waste cans and jars, pictures framed, and so on.

Still a young couple, after 14 years of marriage and cooperative work, the Carmichaels are a good home and live comfortably. "Plan," they say, "then attach to your plan."

FOUND BEST TO SELECT SWEET POTATOES IN FALL

AUBURN, Ala.—"This sweet potato digging time in Alabama and it's also the best time to select seed potatoes for next year's crop," says Lyle Brown, horticulturist of the Alabama Extension Service.

"To maintain high producing stock of sweet potatoes of good quality," he says, "it is necessary to select foundation seed stock each year. A method of seed selection that will insure the best quality of Porto Rico sweet potatoes for next year has been worked out by the Alabama experiment station. By using this method growers can prevent their stock from 'running out'."

"Sweet potatoes should be selected when the potatoes are being harvested. The first step is to choose high-yielding hills that have grown on no more than 1 potatoe and then save for seed only No. 1 potatoes free from blemishes."

Each potato should be examined both for skin and flesh color. The skin of potatoes saved for seed should be of a uniform color, and the flesh a dark yellow (salmon pink).

The flesh color is best determined by cutting the potatoes in two about one-half to three-quarters of an inch thick and examining the flesh. If the flesh is not a dark yellow color, the potato should be discarded as unsatisfactory.

When this cutting operation is performed in the fall, Mr. Brown says, the cut surface will have a chance to cure during the current season.

If growers wait until spring to select their seed potatoes, the operation will be held to a minimum. If growers wait until spring to select their seed potatoes, the operation will be held to a minimum.

Mrs. L. S. Rainer was leader and after opening the meeting with the song, "Come Thou Almighty King," read the scripture lesson from Isaiah 55:10-15 and led the prayer.

The program consisted of talks on mission work by the following members: Mrs. Thomas Ward, whose subject was "Imperative Needs of Medical Missions"; Mrs. A. C. Dunaway, in a discussion of "Brethren Hospital—An Avenue of Christian Service"; Mrs. C. H. Seibert, who talked on "When Our Deaconesses Retire"; and Mrs. L. S. Rainer, discussing "Understanding the Living Christian Epiphany With Christian Literature."

After the closing song, "Break Thou the Bread of Life," the meeting was dismissed with prayer.

Ship Construction Is Rising Rapidly

Expect 1,250,000 Tons by End of Year.

WASHINGTON—A prediction that the nation's rapidly expanding ship-building facilities will turn out 1,250,000 deadweight tons of merchant ships this year, with an increase to 3,500,000 tons in 1942 and 5,000,000 tons in 1943 came from the maritime commission.

In its first comprehensive summary of a vast three-way construction program, the commission placed the cost of 705 merchantmen "built, building or under contract" at $1,025,000,000, with an additional investment of $85,000,000 in new facilities, bringing the total cost to $1,110,000,000.

Divided into three parts, the construction program now includes: 1—Long-range program calling for 500 ships in a 10-year period. This now includes 283 ships, of which 91 have been delivered. Except for the luxury liner America, recently taken over by the navy, all contracts have been let since January 1, 1938.

2—Emergency national defense program, calling for 200 "ugly duckling" cargo carriers. Of approximately 10,000 deadweight tons and designed for mass production, the first "ugly duckling" is expected to be completed in November, 1938.

3—Construction of 222 vessels for transfer to Great Britain under the Lend-Lease act. This program includes 112 "ugly ducklings," 72 high-speed tankers of 15,000 deadweight tons, 10 C-1, 22 C-2 and 6 C-3 cargo boats. The "C" boats, among the world's finest of their class, are the backbone of the long-range program. They range from 7,500 to 12,500 deadweight tons.

Aerial Fighting Puts Weather on New War Role

The general pace of modern warfare is geared to economic production and advances in scientific knowledge, says Captain Jones, who reveals that military aviation cannot act independently of meteorology. He quotes a high-ranking British authority who says:

"The chief of a bomber command has to be concerned first with meteorology and secondly with strategy."

In view of this new development in modern warfare the army air force turned its energies to the perfection of a complete meteorological department and is training a full complement of expert weather forecasters for duty with the military forces. Men for this work are hand-picked from college alumni, all come highly recommended and many are Phi Beta Kappas.

Special training is being carried out at several of the nation's engineering schools and the best in field equipment is provided as they move into their army stations. Nor is the new branch of the service designed as an emergency measure. Their work will go on in peacetime or wartime.

Ticklish Job Is Solved By Letting Ice Melt

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH—Several tons of ice—and the engineers who thought of it—are credited with preventing mishap in the ticklish job of installing the army air corps' new underground fueling system here.

Sixteen 25,000-gallon gasoline tanks had to be lowered evenly—and gently—into excavations dug for them at the air base. The problem was solved by placing blocks of ice under the tanks as they were suspended over the 15-foot holes, then gradual melting of the ice eased the fuel containers safely to their underground base.

Philadelphia Ice Cream Traced Back to 1796

HARRISBURG, PA.—History gives Dolly Madison, wife of President James Madison, credit for creating a sensation in Washington by introducing ice cream to society folk in the capital.

A recently discovered manuscript found in the archives division of the Pennsylvania State library, however, indicates the concoction was probably known to residents of Philadelphia a dozen years before its appearance in Washington.

The parchment, dated 1796, is a petition to the state legislature from a Italian requesting permission to sell ice cream in the Pennsylvania statehouse yard in Philadelphia.

Industrial Development Of Australia Speeded

CANBERRA, AUSTRALIA—Industrial development as a result of the war has resulted in Australia ranking, on a population basis, with the most highly industrialized nations of the world.

MET WITH MRS. FARRIS—

The special mission program and social meeting of the Methodist W. S. C. S. was held in the home of Mrs. W. M. Farris, with Mrs. Dana Perdue serving as joint hostess, on Monday afternoon at three o'clock.

The home was attractively decorated with a collection of bright fall flowers.

Mrs. J. M. Rowe, president, presided over the business period and opened the program with prayer by Mrs. L. P. Morrey.

The following officers and chairmen made reports on the mission work of the society: Mrs. E. L. Cooper, Conference Treasurer; Mrs. Corrie Bryant, Local Treasurer; Mrs. C. H. Seibert, Secretary of Christian Social Relations Group.

The president appointed the following to serve as a committee to nominate officers for the year and report at the November business meeting: Mrs. Dana Perdue, Mrs. A. C. Dunaway and Mrs. Mayo Prescott.

The program for the afternoon was based on the topic, "Who Giveth All," and was led by Mrs. A. C. Dunaway. The group sang "For the Beauty of Earth," and the leader read scripture from the 11th chapter of Matthew, 3-9 verses, and made an interesting talk on "The Power That Brings Harvest Home."

The meeting was dismissed with the watch word and a delightful social hour was enjoyed.

The hostesses served a delicious salad course, cookies and iced tea to the following members present: Mesdames L. S. Rainer, J. M. Rowe, Mayo Prescott, Roberta Childs, Thomas Ward, A. C. Dunaway, J. W. Bedwell, L. P. Morrey, C. H. Seibert, J. M. Garrett, W. R. Crook, Corrie Bryant, Gordon Prescott, R. L. Cooper, Dana Perdue and W. M. Farris.

Dr. N. M. Ham and Messers I. N. Heath, J. W. Blocker, D. F. Wilkes and Robert Moore attended the State Sacred Harp singing convention which was held in Phoenix City, commencing Saturday night and running through Sunday.

Judge and Mrs. J. A. Carnley left Tuesday for Wilmington, N. C., to visit their daughter, Mrs. Edward E. Purvis, Jr., and family.

Red Cross Helps Solve Problems Of Our Recruits

Through Its Directors in Camps Red Cross Links
Men With Home

Washington, D. C.—On the home and military fronts the American Red Cross is turning its focus on the man in uniform. In his behalf, more than 10,000 nurses are being recruited. Volunteers are donating their blood for a huge plasma bank. Red Cross women in chapters throughout the country are making 40,000,000 surgical dressings, and knitting sweaters for men in outlying posts and sailors on patrol.

But these are just fragments of the story. In military and naval stations, the Red Cross is concerned with the personal problems of the service man, helping him adjust himself to military life. For the disabled, the Red Cross is on the job in service hospitals, helping to speed recovery of the sick through a morale-building program.

In mobilizing a 2,000,000-man fighting force, the personal problems of the able-bodied man in uniform have in turn become problems of the morale divisions. Red Cross field directors stationed in all camps and reservations have been entrusted with the task of helping to solve these problems.

Speaking in a nation-wide broadcast recently, Chief of Staff Marshall, of the Army, addressed the following words to Red Cross field directors:

"When you help straighten out any of the great variety of tangles that human beings seem unable to avoid, you are helping to maintain morale on the home front and on the military front; you are helping us in training for defense."

The disabled man in a service hospital also can look to the Red Cross for help in speeding recovery. Medical-social workers, trained for their specialized assignment, are on duty at Army general and Navy hospitals to aid service physicals, to act as a medium of communication with the families of hospitalized men and to conduct recreational programs for convalescents.

The Red Cross provides recreational service for patients in all Army and Navy hospitals. Sixty-five new hospitals are under construction by the Army, and their recreation buildings are being equipped and staffed by the Red Cross as each one opens.

As part of the Army and Navy safety programs, members of the national Red Cross staff are qualifying instructors in First Aid and Water Safety among the ranks of the enlisted man.

The number of Army and Navy nurses assigned by Red Cross field directors has increased in volume 140 per cent since Selective Service has been instituted. During the past year 125,515 cases involving active service men have been handled in the camps.

The Red Cross recently made available $1,000,000 to meet an emergency need for athletic equipment for the Army and Navy. This need arose when Government appropriations for the purpose became exhausted.

In addition to providing the Army and Navy with an official reservoir of nurses, the Red Cross is cataloging the nation's medical technologies. Through this program, in which approximately 5,000 technicians have registered, the Army and Navy will select such professional personnel as laboratory workers, dentists, dental technicians, pharmacists and other categories of trained technologists.

DAIRY DEFENSE

Every dairy cow in Alabama must produce an extra quart of milk per day in 1942 to meet Alabama's quota, says F. W. Burns, Extension Dairyman, Auburn. It can be done, he says, by more liberal feeding and better management.

Europe will need our surplus cows to replenish its depleted herds as soon as the war is over. Save all heifer calves sired by production bred bulls to help supply this future demand.

SOURCE OF VITAMIN A

To insure a good quality milk that is high in Vitamin A and to remove the danger of contracting diseases due to Vitamin A deficiency, farmers are planting extra and rye to be grazed by cattle this winter when pasture plants have died. Fields planted to these crops can easily be turned into temporary pastures by putting up a couple of runs of barbed wire.

A Chicago botanist who has made a survey of Alaska, says "The possibility of inhaling allergy from pollen and spores in Alaska is remote." Not so easy, however, for all sufferers from this ill to go to Alaska.

Mrs. H. H. Swaine and Miss Martha Jo Swaine left Saturday for an extended visit with Mr. H. G. Swaine and family in Washington, D. C.

IN MEMORY OF MILES RHODES, PIONEER CITIZEN

On September 24, 1941, Mr. Miles S. Rhodes, one of Coffee County's most prominent citizens, died at Bryce Hospital after an illness of several months. His passing brought deep sorrow to his family and numerous friends in the Western part of Coffee where he had spent his life.

Mr. Rhodes leaves to mourn his death, his devoted wife, Mrs. Fannie Rhodes; one daughter, Mrs. Jessie Mae Paggett; one granddaughter, Mary Nell Paggett; and a good many step children and step grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at Bethany Church with Elder Jack Mitchell officiating. Pallbearers were his step grandsons and nephews: Ronald Wise, John Wise, Edgar Dorough, Willie Rhodes, Charlie Rhodes and Reuben Davis. Hayes Funeral Home had charge.

FARM LABORERS RECEIVING SHARPLY INCREASED WAGE

With the supply of farm labor being at the lowest point in 23 years and agricultural production being stepped up to meet the demands of a defense-conscious nation, farm workers are receiving sharply increased wages.

Agricultural wage rates on October 1 had advanced to 165 per cent of the 1910-11 average, 36 points over a year ago and were at the highest level since 1930.

Helping to maintain production despite the drop in the number of workers has been the increased use of machinery on the farms and more intensive use of available workers. Farmers have been spared to increase production by the higher prices being offered for farm products.

Barbara, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Jones, was brought home Sunday afternoon after being confined for 23 days in a Troy hospital, suffering with nephritis or albumen and pus on the kidneys. Her condition is somewhat improved but the doctor's orders are that she must remain in bed and adhere to a diet for several weeks. Her ailment is often the forerunner of Bright's disease, but it is hoped that her youth will enable her to outgrow it. Mrs. Jones was in constant attendance at Barbara's bedside while in the hospital.

Ferrel Young, U. S. Navy, spent a short vacation during the past week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Young. His ship was docked at Boston, Mass.

MOVABLE HAY SHED FOR ALABAMA FARMS

Due to increased hay production, shortage of baling wire and a lack of hay storage space on many farms, a cheap, portable hay shed—known as the Garrett movable hay shed—has been designed by the Agricultural Engineering Department, Auburn, for use on Alabama farms.

Hay stored in this shed is fed by simply removing the temporary protection of wire or boards, permitting animals access to the sides of the rack. Should mud interfere, the rack is added to dry ground. Two to four such sheds will fill the needs of an average two-horse farm.

The top of the shed can be bolted on one side, swung open for grazing and closed after it is filled with hay.

Walter Whitman, Jr., acted as field judge at the Dolansburg-Lanier football game played in Canton Bowl, Montgomery, last Friday night, before a crowd of 7,500 spectators. The game ended in a 20-20 tie. "Whit" is recognized as being one of the most competent judges of football rules and plays of anyone in South Alabama and his services as an official are in demand.

Coach and Mrs. P. H. Crigler, of Ozark, visited relatives in Elba Sunday afternoon. Miss Betty Jean Bullard returned with them to Elba after a visit in Ozark over the week end. Coach is having a highly successful year in Ozark. His team is one of three in South Alabama that has won all five of their games. However, Elba stands alone as the only team whose goal line has not been crossed this season.

Corp. Roger Winston returned last Friday to Camp Blanding after spending his furlough with relatives. He was supplied for discharge from the army.
